

In This Issue...

'Desert Sunrise', a newly registered name for a cross by Jim Barlup. See Plant Name Register, page 118.

Rhododendron stamps from Bhutan proved the perfect gift. Page 106.

Major Gift from Lurline Elliott

Lurline L. Elliott, a long-time member of the ARS De Anza Chapter who passed away in 2004, bequeathed a most generous gift to the General Fund of the Society, the sum of $52,824.23. (The donation was noted in the Fall 2004 issue of the Journal.) Lurline Elliott and her husband, Keith Elliott, were members of the ARS for approximately twenty-five years. They often held meetings for rhododendron enthusiasts in their home in Woodside, California, and were involved in innumerable chapter truss shows. The Elliots were known to travel up and down the West Coast visiting nurseries and gardens looking for the best rhododendrons for their garden.

The ARS is grateful for the gift from the estate of Lurline Elliott and her loyalty to the Society.

Table of Contents

Features

- 3 The Siyom-Subansiri Divide, Arunachal Pradesh, India, October 2002
BY KENNETH COX
A day-by-day account of high adventure and great plant finds
- 71 John G. (Jack) Lofthouse 1915-2005: His Rhododendron Legacy BY CLIVE L. JUSTICE
An overview of the Lofthouse rhododendron hybrids
- 72 Tips for Beginners: Some Thoughts on Growing Rhododendrons in Difficult Climates BY JOE B. PARKS
A review of the basics for creating the best environment for rhododendrons
- 74 Loss of Winter Hardiness in R. 'Supernova', An Artificial Polyploid BY STEPHEN L. KREBS
Some polyploid rhododendrons are not as hardy as natural polyploids
- 76 Companion Plants: Introducing Species Peonies BY LEO SMIT
Species peonies make wonderful companions for rhododendrons
- 78 Let's Talk Hybridizing; Hybridizing As Viewed by the Society Bretonne du Rhododendron BY MARC COLOMBEL
A Frenchman discusses his hybridizing program
- 81 Phytophthora ramorum: Nurseries Comply with New Order BY SONJA NELSON AND MIKE STEWART
Rhododendron nurseries continue to ship interstate
- 82 The Mass Chapter's Sunny Display Garden BY SUSAN CLARK
Lepidote rhododendrons are at the core of this New England display garden
- 83 Rhododendron Varieties and Locations in British Columbia BY HARRY WRIGHT
Over four thousand varieties have been located in BC gardens
- 90 Color and Color Variation in the Robin Hill Azaleas BY DONALD H. VOSS
A in-depth study of flower color
- 99 Wisley, The Garden of the Royal Horticultural Society BY PETER KENDALL
A visit to the "world headquarters of horticulture"
- 100 Breeding Vireya Rhododendrons for Cold Hardiness BY JIM GERDEMANN
The Tropic Alpine group of hardy vireya rhododendrons
- 118 A Color Glossary BY ELEANOR PHILP
Tubular-campanulate flower is illustrated by Rhododendron haematodes

Society News

- 84 Awards
- 85 In Memoriam
- 86 ARS Board of Directors Meeting, Hilo, Hawaii
- 87 Rhododendron Calendar
- 88 Chapter Shows
- 89 ARS Financial Statement
- 116 New Members
- 120 In Memoriam
- 120 Chapter, District and Special Donations

Publications

- 107 Book Reviews
- 108 ARS Register of Plant Names—Spring 2005 Supplement
- 121 Publication List

Cover Illustrations

Clockwise: Orchid house at Wisley; 'Tropic Alpine Gold'; Headmen of Siyom village, Arunachal Pradesh, India; 'Rwain' flower; 'Weston's Lollipop'.